While we wish summer garden soirées could last forever, sometimes the forecast has other ideas. If a sudden downpour threatens your alfresco plans, don't fret. From porcelain dishware hand-painted with leaf motifs to linens delicately embroidered with flowers, there's always a backup plan when it comes to re-creating the great outdoors, chez vous. While you're at it, add some palm tree-inspired elements in gilded gold to really up the ante. No one needs to know whether you're in New York or on a luxe private island.
