GARDEN FRESH

Renowned landscape designer and founder of Unlimited Earth Care, Frederico Azevedo remains rooted in sustainability as he unveils his new venture, The Garden Market.

By Phebe Wahl

For award-winning landscape designer Frederico Azevedo, sustainability is second nature, and his thoughtful design process has earned him a loyal following. Born in Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, Azevedo has studied landscape design in Brazil, England and the U.S. His dedication to sustainability is apparent in the enchanting landscape projects ranging across Europe, South America and the U.S., including the Hamptons, where the majority of his clients reside. As the owner of Unlimited Earth Care (unlimitedearthcare.com), based in Bridgehampton, Azevedo works with ecologists and specialists to craft harmonious, elegant landscapes through holistic approaches. His literary venture, Bloom: The Luminous Gardens of Frederico Azevedo (Pointed Leaf Press), spotlights his signature styles like curving, floral borders and the use of native plants. Recently, Azevedo unveiled The Garden Market in Bridgehampton, a space where he directly shares his landscape philosophy by showcasing native and well-adapted plants from local growers and plenty of fresh ideas. A growth mindset, indeed! ■

The Garden Market in Bridgehampton offers native plants from local growers and ample advice.
