GARDEN PARTY

On June 20th, landscape designer Frederico Azevedo celebrated the launch of his new book, Bloom: The Luminous Gardens of Frederico Azevedo, at Unlimited Earth Care in Bridgehampton. Azevedo's book chronicles 26 years of his breathtaking work in the Hamptons, where he creates landscapes brimming with color and texture. "The whole idea is to make people excited about landscaping, color, and sustainability," said Azevedo. "We want people who already love gardens to imagine more color, more textures, and more variety." The event also served as the opening reception for a selection of new works from Georgian artist Zurab Tsereteli, presented by HG Contemporary, with sculptures displayed throughout the venue.
