GREAT GENES!

WITH JAMES TURLINGTON

When did you realize that your aunt, Christy Turlington, was a fashion legend?

I never really saw her being that famous. She was just my aunt. I always looked up to her and everything she's done, such as [her charity] Every Mother Counts, and how she pursued higher education in the midst of being who she is. I saw how people looked up to her and how she was the mentor to so many top models now. People like Carolyn Murphy and Karlie Kloss have all said how amazing she's been to them.

Did you know Kate Moss and Naomi Campbell were a kid?

When I was little, I saw them a few times. After I saw Kate Moss at Fashion Week, Christy told me Kate and I shared a bed when I was a little baby. They both came for Thanksgiving one year with my grandma, grandpa, and the whole gang. It's been special to be in this world and reunite with them.

We hear you and your mom are close. Are you a momma's boy?

Yes, 100 percent. She and Christy have always been my mentors. They're pretty much best friends. They live a block away from each other.

Modeling doesn't always last forever...unless you're Christy Turlington. What else do you want to do?

Eventually, I'd like to get into acting. This life is new to me, because I played baseball from 2 to 25. This has been a huge transition in my life, going from my biggest passion to this. I'd love to model for awhile. The ride has been amazing!

DIVINELY EQUINE!

This season, Mark Cross debuts a luxurious equestrian collection of bags that showcase the brand's rich, 125-year-old history while also celebrating its modern revitalization. The marriage of fine materials and craftsmanship with contemporary, practical details really shine in this collection of duffels, totes, and saddle bags, all designed with input from prominent equestrian riders in Wellington. The Daily's Darcy Fogg caught up with Mark Cross' president and CEO, Ulrik Garde Due, at the collection's recent unveiling at Wellington's Bluman Equestrian. Check out a video of the interview—and get a look at the full collection and some of its biggest equestrian fans—at fashionweekdaily.com.

DIAMOND DOGS!

WITH REBECCA ROMIJN

How did your bauble line, Charlie Dolly, come about?

I thought, "Why do we have such chunky jewelry settings?"

I always wanted to wear loose diamonds. Charlie and Dolly are my daughters' names.

They're my sparkly little creatures!

Do you wear your creations daily?

Yes! I don't take my jewelry off when I sleep; I like to leave it on when I work out. I call it modern tennis jewelry. A dangle diamond is sexy, casual, and elegant.

What else have you been up to?

I'm hosting American Rescue Dog Show on Hallmark Channel, which is so fulfilling and cute. It celebrates rescue dogs in categories like Best in Wiggle Butt, Best in Snoring, Best in Belly Rubs, Best in Couch Potato. The ones that really get you are Best in Special Needs and Best in Senior. There's not a dry eye in the house.

LANDSCAPE PERFECTION!

The Hamptons' favorite garden guru,

Frederica Azevedo of Unlimited Earth Care, chronicles 26 years of his breathtaking work in Bloom: The Luminous Gardens of Frederica Azevedo. "The whole idea is to make people excited about landscaping, color, and sustainability," Azevedo explains of his gorgeous approach to greenery. "We want people who already love gardens to imagine more color, more textures, and more variety." An essential read for inspired ideas to refresh your Palm Beach grounds—or get a head start on that East End property's backyard before summer!

STYLISH SUPPER!

On Thursday, March 12, chic lifestyle and fashion brands Neely & Chloe, India Amory, Mignonne Gavigan, and Tuckernuck are co-hosting an alfresco dinner at Chris Burch's private residence. The spring fête will host influential Palm Beach women and tastemakers, including Darcy Fogg, Allegria Fanjul, Lauriston Segerson, and Caroline Rafferty, as well as the brands' founders and ambassadors: Neely and Chris Burch (above), Julia Hoyt Amory, September Rinnier Votta, Madeline Grayson, Molly Raney Glasser, Elizabeth Tuke Duke, and Shallon Hunter Manion.

COUPLE GOALS!

WITH KERI RUSSELL & MATTHEW RHYNS

Keri, we saw you dancing in the front row at NYFW!

Matthew: We're wasted! [Laughs] We've had three Peronis.

Keri: I dance all the time. I'm a trained dancer.

How would you rate her dancing?

Matthew: 10...

Keri: Nice!

Matthew: ...out of 50! [Russell breaks into laughter]

Matthew, you were so good in the Mister Rogers biopic. What was Mrs. Rogers like?

Keri: Isn't it a beautiful movie?

Matthew: She has a wicked sense of humor. She'd say, "Fred drove me nuts!" She's honest. In the movie, she says Fred wasn't a saint. He was far from perfect, but he worked hard. She was adamant about keeping him humanized.
